Lectio Divina

- Lectio Divina is “sacred reading” - time to read and meditate on Scripture and allow God to speak to us.
- Each week you can write down a word or phrase that inspires you to pray

26th Sunday in Ordinary Time:

Luke 16: 19-31

Read, Meditate, Pray, Contemplate

Ice Breaker

Everyone arranges their chairs in a circle. One person remove their chair from the circle and stand in the middle. Begin by saying “Never have I ever...” about something mom/kid/marriage related. If you HAVE experienced this then you must stand up and switch chairs with someone else who stands up. The person who doesn't get a chair is the new person in the middle.

Some examples:

“NEVER HAVE I EVER...Ran an errand to get away”

“NEVER HAVE I EVER...Called my child by the wrong name”

“NEVER HAVE I EVER...Sniffed someone's bottom in public”
